

Fr Frank Nally SSC was ordained a Columban Missionary in 1985 and worked in Mindanao, Philippines, heading campaigns to end the deleterious effects of illegal logging and against the entry of mining titan Rio Tinto. In 2006 he convinced former UK minister Clare Short to visit the Philippines to view the mining situation, documented in Mining in the Philippines: Concerns and Conflicts (2007) which Frank co-authored. Frank returned to the Philippines for the 2009 launch of a second report, Philippines: Mining or Food?. He is a member of the Working Group on Mining in the Philippines, the Mines and Communities management committee, and the board of Philippine Indigenous Peoples Links (PIPLinks).
