

Steve Hucklesby has a background in international development and humanitarian aid, having managed programmes in the context of conflict and post-conflict rehabilitation in Africa and Asia. Steve joined the Methodist Church in 2003 as Secretary for International Affairs and now works as a Policy Adviser within the Joint Public Issues team serving the Baptist, Methodist and United Reformed churches. This role includes acting in an advisory capacity to the Joint Advisory Committee on the Ethics of Investment to assist the Central Finance Board of the Methodist Church in its work on social responsibility in the global context. Steve holds an MA in Third World Studies and edited Peacemaking: A Christian Vocation, a publication of the Methodist and United Reformed churches.